

bread into roses

In 1934, the Works Progress Administration freed artists from the constraints of earning a living. With their labor their own, they started working towards goals that would benefit all mankind. The Rose Producing Body, the latest of these inventions, was created under the Bread Into Roses division, a project for the advancement of beauty.